

PODCAST: GENDER VIOLENCE BY ÁNGELA JIMÉNEZ GARCÉS AND MÓNICA GONZÁLEZ SÁNCHEZ.

SONIDO

- MÓNICA: Today, we are going to talk with a classmate named Ángela.

SONIDO APLAUSOS

- MÓNICA: Hi, Ángela!

- ÁNGELA: Good morning, Mónica!

- MÓNICA: How are you?

- ÁNGELA: I am fine and you?

- MÓNICA: I am good too.

- ÁNGELA: Today, we are going to talk about gender violence that is a topic very controversial nowadays.

- MÓNICA: Yes, it is very controversial but I think that is very important to have a conversation about this and notice some examples and what we have to do in emergency cases.

- ÁNGELA: Okay, let's talk.

- MÓNICA: Firstly, do you know the definition of gender violence?

- ÁNGELA: Gender violence is a type of phisycal or psychological violence against any person or a group of people.

SONIDOS DE GRITOS DE MIEDO

- MÓNICA: That's right! Let's go talk about some examples.

- ÁNGELA: Yes, but I want to say that the total number of victims of gender violence in 2020 rises to 45.

- MÓNICA: Yes, that's correct! We are going to talk about one concret example of Diana Quer who disappeared and until the Discovery of her body, no one knew about her.

MÚSICA TRISTE

- ÁNGELA: The guilty was Jose Enrique and he murdered and abused of her sexually.

- MÓNICA: This data are sad but real.

MÚSICA TRISTE

- MÓNICA: And do you know what we have to do in emergency cases?

- ÁNGELA: At first, call to the number 016. Then, the police will come to your house and you will report aggression.

SONIDO DE LLAMADA DE POLICÍA

- MÓNICA: And that's all! I hope you have learned how to act in a case of gender violence.

- ÁNGELA: Yes, I learned too much.

- MÓNICA: Bye, Ángela!

- ÁNGELA: Bye, Mónica!

SONIDO