

My School Trip To London (Beatriz Pozo 3° C)

Last week, I went to London, in England. I was excited because I've always loved this city and I think its monuments and museums are amazing.

My favourite place was Big Ben, it's enormous!

I also liked the London Eye, but the best place I visited was the Natural History museum. I love Biology and this museum explains everything about the human body.

And even though the monuments and museums are incredible, food in England was terrible! I missed Spain when we had to go somewhere to eat. Another problem in England is that everything is very expensive.

In my opinion, I would go to London again but I would take my own food.
