If you want to try Spanish cuisine, go to El Cerrojo Tapas restaurant where the staff are always friendly, the food is delicious, and the prices are fair. 	breakfast for as low as 1 euro 80. Alosno doesn't have a lot of nightlife but on the weekends the locals usually go to Habana Chill which is a bar that has a large screen where they usually put the soccer games, music in English and Spanish that you can enjoy while drinking a beer with a fresh slice of pizza. The town is big on having many celebrations and carnivals like International Day of Flamenco, Andalusia Day, many activities during Christmas and Holy Week, so make sure to ask the locals which are the specific dates so you can take part in the events during those days. Alosno might be small, but you could meet people with big hearts that are willing to help you feel at home, so consider yourself lucky if you are placed in Alosno.
Getting to school	-Living in Alosno lets you walk. You don't have to use a car or public transport because it is a small village. -If you want to visit Huelva or another town in the region, you can use public transport such as buses. You can get all the timetables and tickets on their website. https://damas-sa.es/ Frequently there are teachers who live in Huelva that offer to take language assistants in that direction at the weekend.
Accommodation	There are normally two language assistants in the town, other years they have shared accommodation. There is also the possibility of sharing with a teacher from the school as many are from out of town and rent in Alosno during the week. At the beginning of the year people from the town come to the school with information about cheap rents
