

You are walking down the street and you find someone on the ground. You don't know how to save them or help them. What should you do?

You are walking down the street with your friend and you see an accident on the other side of the road. A person was hit by a car. What should we do?

You find a person in a room who is coughing. The person is choking on walnuts that he was eating. What is the first thing you should do?

Your classmate is asking for help because they choked on their sandwich during recess. She isn't coughing, and she is starting to turn blue. What should we do?

When we act in an emergency, we should follow the PAS system. What do the letters PAS stand for?

In an emergency, once we have "protegido" and "protegido al herido," what is the next thing that we should do? How do we do it?

You are eating in a restaurant with your friends and you hear someone asking for help because their baby is choking. What should we do?

You see that your little cousin has ingested a toxic substance and has the bottle in her hand. What should you do?

You are walking down the street and you see an elderly person unconscious on the sidewalk. You have protected yourself, the environment, the unconscious person, and you have notified emergency services. You have checked again, and the person remains unconscious but is still breathing. What should we do while waiting for the ambulance to arrive? Explain it.

You are alone eating a ham sandwich while watching a video. The video is really funny and when you start laughing, you choke on your sandwich. You start coughing, but you are not able to expel the piece of food stuck in your throat. Breathing becomes difficult and you stop breathing. What should you do?

You are walking down the street and you see a house on fire. There is someone inside asking for help, who has inhaled a lot of smoke, but was able to leave the house. What should we do?

In the event that you have an accident that produces a serious injury with