

IV.- How to write my FEELING & NATURE POEM

Two-Sides Poem: nature & feelings

Teaching Poetry: The Ultimate Guide
by Brooke Cohen

Choose a natural feature or an element in nature (mountain, leaf, sea, stream, flower ... ). Write a poem about it on the left side of the page. Then think of what that place or thing makes you feel and write another poem describing that feeling on the right side of the page.

REMEMBER! The five senses may be very useful to describe both the place and the feeling:

SENSE	VERB	PART OF THE BODY
sight	see	eyes	Melancholy looks like a giant cave. hearing	hear	ears	Melancholy sounds like a very old tune. touch	touch	fingers/hands	Melancholy feels like an empty house.
smell	smell	nose	Autumn smells of fresh rain. taste	taste	tongue/mouth	Autumn tastes like sweet fruit.

Let's review some vocabulary related to NATURE and FEELINGS.

Naturaleza y paisaje en inglés. Video <https://youtu.be/V8kpsCcjiTY>

Naturaleza: Vocabulario inglés
<https://www.aderalingua.com/es/learn-english/course/2/lesson/33>

FEELINGS - nouns
<https://www.vocabulary.com/lists/206773>

FEELINGS - adjectives
<https://blogs.transparent.com/spanish/spanish-vocabulary-emotions-emociones/>

EXAMPLE

NATURE	FEELING
Autumn is	Melancholy is
brown	grey
red	sad
yellow	gloomy
I love the falling leaves	I hate the feeling of sadness
they are like magical rain	it is like feeling trapped in a cage
weird drops in different colours	not being able to laugh with your friends
only warm colours	thinner than sadness
no blue or green	sharp and painful
only yellow	gloomy
red	sad
brown	grey
just autumn	unwanted melancholy